

Corporate Vision

Empowering Energy & Communication

Contributing to society by continuing to improve the speed, accuracy and efficiency of energy and information

Profile

Established in 1918 as cable factory of Hitachi, Ltd., Hitachi Cable, Ltd. was spun off from Hitachi to become an independent company in 1956. Since then, Hitachi Cable has been playing a central role in the Hitachi Group as a manufacturer of wires and cables, and has constantly pursued technologies for conveying energy and information that satisfy the needs of the times.

Today, Hitachi Cable is widely expanding its business scope, from wires and cables, copper products and brake hoses as core products, to the electronics, wireless, broadcasting and information networks and automotive fields. Furthermore, Hitachi Cable has established regional management companies to oversee the Europe-U.S., China and Southeast Asia regions and respond to the needs of customers in global markets quickly and reliably.

Hitachi Cable continues to provide products and services that exceed customers' expectations, and contribute to society.
