Hitachi Metals, Ltd. (5486) Financial Report for the Year Ended March 31, 2009

(Financial Performance)

1. Analysis of Consolidated Business Results

(1) Overview (fiscal year ended March 31, 2009)

Looking at the global economy, conditions deteriorated further in the fiscal year under review. In specific terms, the financial crisis that originated in the United States grew in size. From the autumn of 2008, the downturn in the U.S. and European economies deepened, while in Asia the slowdown in economic conditions gathered pace. Moreover, the precipitous decline in capital investments and exports has put Japan's economy in a free fall of perilous proportions.

Conditions in the industries in which the Hitachi Metals Group operates were severe. The automobile sector in Europe, the United States and Japan experienced increasingly sluggish sales, and the downward trend accelerated in Asia as well. In the semiconductor industry demand declined worldwide. The market for mobile phones saw a downturn in growth in Asia, while demand in Japan sank significantly. In personal computers, demand plunged along with cooling consumption. Demand in the steel industry dropped sharply both in Japan and overseas, amplifying the decline in production. The domestic construction industry maintained its downward trend in housing starts and public investment slumped.

Under these circumstances, the Hitachi Metals Group also experienced a significant reduction in demand reflecting stagnation in the automobile and electronics-related sectors as well as depressed capital investment. This has resulted in a 15.7% year-on-year decline in net sales, to ¥590,704 million.

On the earnings front, the steep drop in sales together with the substantial decline in production reflecting efforts to correct inventory levels resulted in a decline in operating income of $44,640 million compared with the previous fiscal year to $15,058 million. Loss before income taxes and minority interests slipped $51,627 million to $200 million. Furthermore, by posting extraordinary losses including a loss on devaluation of investment securities and a loss on structural reform, Hitachi Metals reported a net loss of $3,016 million.

Results by individual business segment are as follows. Sales amounts include intersegment sales and transfers.

High-Grade Metal Products and Materials

Sales in this segment declined 9.3% year on year to ¥265,048 million. Operating income dropped ¥22,929 million to ¥5,735 million.

Looking at conditions affecting principal products, sales of molds and tool steels fell as a result of a rapid and broad decline in automobile production. In alloys for electronic products, sales fell as a result of a sudden and dramatic reduction in demand for LCD panel-related materials. Sales of semiconductor and other package materials plummeted with rapidly decelerating memory demand. As a result, overall sales of alloys for electronic products contracted drastically. Sales of rolls increased owing to robust demand in the first half of the fiscal year, overcoming the comparatively nominal impact of reduced steel production. Sales of injection molding machine parts declined, impacted by lower customer machinery orders. In cutting tools, the deteriorating situation in automotive and electronics-related markets caused a spiraling decline in demand and, thus, a major reduction in sales.

Electronics and IT Devices

Segment sales were down 28.5% year on year to $137,264 million. Operating income was down $10,928 million to $9,349 million. Sales of principal products were as follows.

Sales of such permanent magnets as rare-earth magnets declined as a result of the sudden and broad decline in automobile production from the third quarter, diminished capital investment and sluggish sales of electronics-related products. Sales of ferrite magnetic materials shrank considerably due to the steep automotive downturn. As a result, overall sales of permanent magnets declined. In soft magnetic materials, sales of amorphous metals remained unchanged from the previous fiscal year, buoyed by active demand mainly from China and India in the first half of the fiscal year. Sales of soft ferrite and FINEMET® fell on the back of a rapid decline in electronics-related demand. As a result, sales of soft magnetic materials decreased. Turning to devices for mobile phones, sales of isolators fell due to the slump in the domestic mobile phone market and depressed demand for use in base stations. Sales of multilayered devices, mainly for China, declined.

High-Grade Functional Components and Equipment

Sales in this segment decreased 15.4% year on year to ¥188,290 million. Operating income fell ¥11,989 million compared with the previous fiscal year to ¥4,238 million. Sales of principal products in this segment are as follows.

In ductile iron products, sales fell owing to depressed worldwide demand for automobiles. Sales of heat-resistant exhaust casting components spiraled downward due to weak demand as a result of sluggish automobile sales, mainly in North America. In aluminum wheels, the impact of a rapid and deep reduction in production of automobiles for domestic and North American markets resulted in a drastic decline in sales. Sales of pipe fittings declined due to the impact of reduced demand in the domestic construction industry and cutbacks in capital investments at manufacturing plants. In stainless steel and plastic piping components, sales declined on account of the slump in housing starts in both Japan and the United States. Looking at access flooring and structural systems, sales of access flooring systems were down due to anemic electronics-related growth. On the other hand, sales of structural systems were robust, boosted by demand for steel-frame plinths, a primary product.

Service and Others

Sales in this segment were down 20.7% year on year, to ¥86,938 million. Operating income was down ¥218 million to ¥867 million.

(2)Outlook (fiscal year ending March 31, 2010)

Because of the worsening worldwide economy, the business environment surrounding the Hitachi Metals Group is expected to be extremely negative, and a clear picture of the future is exceedingly difficult to ascertain. Under these conditions, demand is not expected to recover immediately. In light of this, Hitachi Metals will position the fiscal year ending March 31, 2010 as a year to implement urgent measures to strengthen the Group's platform. The Company will promote the rebuilding of a robust corporate structure to ensure profits, even under conditions of depressed demand. Specifically, Hitachi Metals is building a highly efficient production framework by implementing cost structure reform, conducting reviews of product strategies, including concentrating management resources on eco-friendly products, enhancing the R&D structure and accelerating the development of new products. In addition, the Company was quick to restrict capital investments with the aim of expanding production and, upon careful consideration as to effectiveness, will make appropriate investments for cost cuts as well as R&D and strategic investments. The performance outlook for the full fiscal year is as follows.

(Millions of yen)

2. Qualitative Information Regarding Changes in Consolidated Financial Position

As of March 31, 2009, cash and cash equivalents decreased $ 14,345 million year on year to $ 33,476 million. While net cash provided by operating activities was essentially on par with net cash used in investing activities, this was mainly attributable to net cash used in financing activities totaling $6,503 million.

Cash flow status at the fiscal year-end and factors influencing results are as follows.

Net cash provided by operating activities was 32,699 million. Principal components were loss before income taxes and minority interests of 200 million as well as 17,550 million representing a decrease in working capital items including trade receivables, inventories and trade payables that reflected the decline in net sales.

Net cash used in investing activities amounted $ 37,347 million. This was mainly due to purchase of property, plant and equipment of $ 41,261 million.

Net cash used in financing activities was 46,503 million. In addition to the repayment of borrowings and corporate bonds, this was attributable to dividends paid of 5,269 million and interest paid of 2,932 million.

3. Dividend Policy / Dividend for the Next Fiscal Year

Changing customer needs and technologies coupled with advancing globalization characterize the current business environment. Under these conditions, Hitachi Metals considers its prime responsibilities are to deliver appropriate and long-term returns to its shareholders by strengthening its international competitiveness and to enhance its corporate value. To this end, the Company has adopted a policy of paying stable dividends from retained earnings to shareholders while taking into account the business environment as well as future business development and performance as it works toward its central aim of achieving growth over the medium to long term.

Hitachi Metals sets aside earnings with the future development of operations in mind, investing in new materials development and in bringing new products to market. At the same time, the Company is investing in new businesses and streamlining facilities to expand its production of highly competitive products. In addition, the Company plans to purchase treasury stock as appropriate based on a variety of factors, including stock price levels, financial condition and other requirements, in line with efforts to execute flexible capital policies.

In connection with the payment of cash dividends from retained earnings for the fiscal year under review, after taking into consideration performance results, future business development and forecasts, Hitachi Metals paid an interim dividend per share of $7.00 (dividend record date: the end of the first half of the fiscal year, the same to apply each fiscal year), and plans to undertake payments of $6.00 per share for the fiscal year-end dividend (dividend record date; the end of the fiscal year, the same to apply each fiscal year). In addition, with regard to dividend payments for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2010, the Company anticipates harsh operating conditions with continue for the foreseeable future. On this basis, Hitachi Metals plans to pay an interim dividend of $6.00, and a fiscal year-end dividend of $6.00.

4. Business Risks

Risks that may potentially impact the financial performance and condition of the Hitachi Metals Group include but are not limited to the following: market trends in the electronics, automobile, construction and other related industries; economic trends in the United States, Asia, Europe and other regions of sales operation; changes in cash flow due to trends in capital investment and the status of sales activities; fluctuations in raw material prices caused by the impact of international markets; the effect of foreign currency exchange rates on foreign currency transactions, foreign currency assets and debt; the generation of impairment loss in accordance with the changing value of negotiable securities held by the Company; the disturbance of business activities in overseas markets due to economic, social or political circumstances; a decline in capacity related to the securing of competitive superiority or the development and commercial application of new technologies and new products; conflicts related to intellectual property rights; increases in costs related to compliance issues or the settlement of legal and public issues related to environmental, export management and other regulations; and the incurrence of costs in the event of warnings, announcements and other orders of penalties in connection with a breach of relevant compliance issues or a product defect.

While the Hitachi Metals Group strives to avoid and minimize the impact of business risks through the maintenance of its risk management system, the Company's financial performance and condition may be affected in the event such risks cannot be completely avoided or eliminated.

[Consolidated Management Policies]

1. Fundamental Management Policies

While fostering a strong sense of trust among stakeholders, including shareholders, investors and business partners, the Hitachi Metals Group engages in business activities based on its fundamental management policy of fulfilling its corporate social responsibilities in order to help realize a better society. To this end, Hitachi Metals strives to enhance its fundamental technologies and adopt new challenges in an effort to develop breakthrough technologies that create new products and businesses.

Through these means, we endeavor to deliver new value to the communities that we serve. In the development and manufacture of products, Hitachi Metals pays particular attention to the environment and the impact of its activities on future generations. In addition, we focus on the timely disclosure of relevant corporate information and pursue close communication with society through activities that contribute to the local community. While endeavoring to incorporate and reflect the opinions of broader society in the Group's management philosophy and decision making, Hitachi Metals works to build confidence and bonds of trust with society. Through these endeavors, the Hitachi Metals Group strives to become the best possible company and to enhance its corporate value.

2. Medium- to Long-Term Strategy, Target Business Indicators and Issues to be Addressed

Based on the Fiscal 2008 Medium-Term Management Plan commenced in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007, the Hitachi Metals Group established specific targets including a consolidated return on equity (ROE) of 12%,  $\pm$ 630 billion in net sales,  $\pm$ 57 billion in operating income and  $\pm$ 26 billion in net income for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009, the final year of the plan. At the same time, the Company aimed to realize sustainable growth by developing its global business and creating new products while enhancing its corporate structure. However, impacted by the rapid deterioration of the economic environment due to worldwide financial instability, performance in the fiscal year under review declined significantly, with net sales of  $\pm$ 590.7 billion operating income of  $\pm$ 15.1 billion and a net loss of  $\pm$ 3 billion. The Company anticipates that this dire economic environment will remain unchanged in the fiscal year ending March 31, 2010.

Given the aforementioned volatile conditions, the Hitachi Metals Group has decided to hold off on announcing its next medium-term management plan. Hitachi Metals has, however, positioned the year ending March 31, 2010 as a year to "implement urgent measures to strengthen the Group's platform." In order to promote the rebuilding of a robust corporate structure, the Company has also decided to move forward with the implementation of the following measures.

1. Cost Structure Reform

Concentrating Company efforts on building a highly efficient production structure, Hitachi Metals will create a framework that ensures profitability even when production volumes are low. From raw materials to the delivery of finished products, the Company will review the manufacturing process and reduce costs at every opportunity..

2. Review of Product Strategies

Each product will undergo careful scrutiny with regard to future market trends and competitiveness. Efforts will be made to select and focus on those products that show promise for growth in global markets once the severe economic conditions come to an end. Because the environmental and energy fields show strong prospects for driving future growth, eco-friendly products will receive special attention and management resources will be deployed to achieve strengthened cost-competitiveness and business expansion.

3. Acceleration of New Product Development

By enhancing the R&D structure and prioritizing for the more timely and appropriate application of management resources, Hitachi Metals will accelerate the market launch of new products that anticipate market and technological changes.

4. Review of Investments

Although the investment capital to expand production is to be restricted, R&D investments and strategic investments into eco-friendly products and expanding markets for new products will undergo careful assessment to determine investment effectiveness. The same level of scrutiny shall be brought to bear on investments, to be implemented as appropriate, made into cost-cutting improvements for the purpose of strengthening our business platform.

With regard to target indicators, in accordance with fundamental management policies concerning profit distribution, the Company aims to raise consolidated ROE (amount of net income returned as a percentage of total shareholders' equity) in order to return profits by leveraging corporate value together with continuing long-term dividends. Specific indicators will be defined in the next medium-term management plan.

Moving forward, the contraction of the domestic market in line with Japan's declining population and the migration of customer production to overseas locations as well as escalating global competition due to the growth of emerging markets and a rising environmental consciousness are all expected to contribute to dramatic changes in the business environment surrounding the Hitachi Metals Group.

Based on a comprehensive review of the Group's existing foundation, management resources will be concentrated on strategic fields as Hitachi Metals aims for new growth.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Foreign currency translation and Translation of foreign currency financial statements

All foreign currency receivables and payables are translated into yen amounts at the rates of exchange in effect on the consolidated balance sheet date with translation differences accounted for as profit or loss. Assets and liabilities of overseas subsidiaries are translated into yen amounts at the rates of exchange in effect on the consolidated balance sheet date. Revenue and expenses are translated into yen amounts at the average exchange rate for the fiscal year and the differences are included in foreign currency translation adjustments account and minority interests in the net assets section.

2. Amortization of Goodwill

Goodwill is amortized equally over the estimated useful life of each asset, not to exceed 20 years.

3. Changes in the application of accounting policies, procedures and disclosures in the presenting of consolidated financial statements

(Changes due to revisions in accounting standards)

Effective for fiscal years beginning on or after April 1, 2008, "Guidance on Accounting Standard for Lease Transactions " (ASBJ Guidance No. 16) has been applied. Under the existing accounting standard, finance leases that deem to transfer ownership of the leased property to the lessee are to be capitalized, however, other finance leases are permitted to be accounted for as operating lease transactions. The revised accounting standard requires that all finance lease transactions be capitalized. Meanwhile, the existing accounting standard will continue to be used for finance leases other than those in which the ownership of the leased assets is to be transferred to lessees, and for which the lease start date is prior to the initial year of apprication. The apprication of this policy had no impact on operating income and income before income taxes and minority interests.

2) Effective from the year ending March, 31, 2009, "Practical Solution on Unification of Accounting Policies Applied to Foreign Subsidiaries for Consolidated Financial Statements" (ASBJ Practical Issues Task Force N0.18), has been applied and, accordingly some revisions have been made to the consolidated accounts as necessary. The application of this policy had no material impact on operating income and income before income taxces and minority interests.

(Changes in disclosure classification of statements of cash flows)

Given investors' growing interest in corporate value, effective from the fiscal year ending March 31, 2009, interest and dividends received as recorded in cash flows from operating activities have been included in cash flows from investing activities, and interest paid has been included in cash flows from financing activities, in order to appropriately conform interest expenses to the calculation of corporate value recognized as capital cost in similar fashion to cash devidends paid. As a result of this change in disclosure classification, cash flows from operating activities increased by  $\cong$  1,000 million, cash flows from investing activities increased by  $\cong$  1,032 million and cash flows from financing activities decreased by  $\cong$  2,932 million, respectively. However, this change had no impact on decrease in cash and cash equivalents.
